Advising
Individual advising with GSLIS Advising Coordinator Meg Edwards, Academic Advisor Karla Lucht, and/or members of the faculty is encouraged. Send an e-mail (advising@support.lis.illinois.edu) in advance to make arrangements.

Conflicts
Taking classes that have conflicting on-campus days should be avoided if possible. If you have a conflict with two LEEP classes, you should contact both professors and negotiate which sessions you will attend. You may also be required to schedule an extra session and/or make-up lost work. Since LEEP classes meet on-campus only once, students with on-campus class conflicts should attend their LEEP class (and arrange to make up their on-campus class work).

Campus Parking Tips
Parking on-campus is limited. All campus parking meters cost $.25 for 15 minutes ($1.00/hour). Additional information is available at http://www.parking.illinois.edu

University parking
All University spaces have an "I" sticker. Ten-hour university meters are located at the main library lot and on top of the parking structure on the corner of 6th and John streets. These meters are monitored 6am-5pm M-F. All meters and university spaces are available free of charge (except those with 24/7 rental signs) on evenings/weekends including the back lot (C5) and the parking structure in front of GSLIS (C10).

Daily parking tags are available for $7 and may be purchased through Campus Parking located at 1110 W. Springfield, Suite 201 (8-5 M-F) or call 217-333-3530.

City parking (on the street)
Two-hour city meters are available around GSLIS. These are monitored 7am-9pm M-S and are free on Sundays.
