

Ch 1. Community Inquiry and Informatics: Collaborative Learning Through ICT (Ann Peterson Bishop, Bertram C. Bruce and M. Cameron Jones)

Ch 2. The Participant-Observer in Community-Based Learning as Community Bard (John M. Carroll)

Ch 8. Social Reproduction and Its Applicability for Community Informatics (Lynette Kvasny)

Chapter 9: Situated Knowledges: The Science Question in Feminism and the Privilege of Partial Perspective

http://www.acls.org/uploadedFiles/Publications/Programs/Our_Cultural_Commonwealth.pdf

5 individualized selections focusing on Community Informatics and Policy:

Gurstein, Michael (2007). What is community informatics (and why does it matter)? Milan, Italy: Polimetrica.

