The Illinois Digital Innovation Leadership Program is an interdisciplinary cross-campus collaboration project with Illinois Extension to develop and share practical insights from ground-breaking UIUC research by engaging with Illinois communities to expand opportunities for entrepreneurship, innovation and economic and social development through digital manufacturing, digital media production and data analytics.